The arrows on each image show you the same hill. The images were taken 9 and a half hours apart and show how much the fire has moved in that time.

Use the zoom features and see the smaller fires close to the shore on the top left image and the image top right shows the smaller fires as a larger fire after 9 and a half hours.

We have offered our services through the Minister's Office regarding the smoke prohibiting fighting or assessment of the fire. We have told them we can show them the direction of the fire before it gets there and can assess all of it through the smoke.

These images are taken from across the lake and this is the amount of information immediately available. The information we could give them from above the fire would be unprecedented with a visual image through the smoke complete with GPS co-ordinates, digital capabilities for investigating the fire as well as the ability to analyze the fire from the air and record the entire process for training, education. Forestry can then share that information with Kelowna and Regional Fire Departments for any required preparation.
